Third Sheet Of Ice For Curling Rink

LAC LA BICHE—During the month of May a crew of carpenters and laborers worked at the project of enlarging the Lac la Biche curling rink to make room for a third sheet of ice. The work was undertaken under the government winter works program, with federal and provincial governments paying a total of 75 per cent of the labor costs.

The waiting room section of the building is being enlarged and plumbing and rest rooms are being added. Since the winter works plan terminated May 31, the work is to be completed by a smaller crew. When the building is finished it will be a valuable addition to the town's growing list of recreational achievements.

Commander Rolf, RCNR, CD Conducts Annual Inspection Of Exeter Corp

LAC LA BICHE — For the first time in the history of the Lac la Biche Exeter Corps, Royal Canadian Sea Cadets, 15 Wrenettes of the newly-formed Wrenette Corps took part in the annual inspection. With the Navy League Cadets and the Sea Cadets, the total number inspected was 53.

With ideal weather conditions prevailing the annual inspection of the Lac la Biche Exeter Corps, Royal Canadian Sea Cadets, was held on Thursday evening June 1.

The scene for this event was the town dock with the waters of the lake as a backdrop.

This corps has been very fortunate as far as weather is concerned for ever since the corps was founded in 1943 the annual inspection has never had to have been postponed because of poor weather.

For this year's inspection the cadets had the largest number turn out they have had in years. The reason for this was the addition of the Wrenettes to the corps.

Cmdr C. Rolf, RCNR, CD, commanding officer of HMCS Nonsuch, Edmonton, made the inspection assisted by the sea cadet area officer, Lieut. M. Davidson, RCN, and Rev. J. E. McGrane, RCNR, RC chaplain of HMCS Nonsuch who was the founder of the Lac la Biche sea cadet corps and for many years the commanding officer. Cmdr. Rolf made a thorough inspection of the ranks and encouraged the corps to keep up the good work, especially as this corps, having the large lake right at the edge of town, is one of the best located in the province and has ample opportunity for swimming and seamanship.

The commanding officer of the corps is Lieut. D. Harris, RCSC but as he was away on business and could not be present for the first part of the inspection, J. H. Wolstenholme, a member of the local Navy League was in charge of the cadets. Mayor M. Maccagno, MLA. was also present and on behalf of the town welcomed the inspecting party to Lac la Biche.

After the inspection on the dock, which is large enough to permit two cars to pass each other, a march past was staged and the salute was taken by Cmdr Rolf at the cenotaph situated on the lake shore at the Canadian Legion property. A muster of stores was also held and no deficiencies were found. The inspecting officer was impressed by the number of cadets present and the new and efficient manner in which they were turned out.

Following the annual inspection the cadets were treated at the Royal Cafe by the Navy League officials and the Navy League joined them. Officers of the corps and the inspection party, adjourned to the York Hotel where a dinner was held followed by a meeting to discuss the future plans of the corps.

Reorganization has to be done as the corps lost two officers by transfer in their work within weeks of each other. Commanding officer, Lieut. R. Rizzoli and executive officer Lieut. R. Lloyd. However with this inspection and meeting, plans have been formulated and by next season it is hoped to have the Exeter Corps again one of the strongest in Alberta.

New officers are being signed on. At present only two officers are officially on strength, namely the CO, Lieut. D. Harris and medical officer, Dr. D. D. Bouvier. The local magistrate, G. Franchuk is the president of the Lac la Biche branch of the Navy League of Canada and J. Stewart is the chairman of the sea cadet committee.

Mrs. Sophie and Mrs. G. Amiot are in charge of the Wrenettes.

Water Rationing May Be Necessary

LAC LA BICHE — With the hot weather and consequent lavish use of water from the town's system, town foreman Hervey Marchildon reports that the town's pumping and storage facilities are being heavily overloaded. Unless residents are willing to voluntarily curb the unnecessary waste of water, town officials fear that some sort of rationing may have to be imposed.

The town's pumping and filtering enquipment was enlarged in 1957 at a cost of $6,000 but this has proved to be only short lived relief. At various times the council has diccussed installing meters instead of charging a flat rate for water as at present and some believe this plan, though not a popular one, may be necessary to correct the situation.

The per capita use of water in Lac la Biche is about double provincial averages.

"And if that plumber in the ALBERTA COUNTRY LIFE classifieds asks if it's urgent—tell him I'm fishing in the basement!"

FARMERS PUZZLED:

Grain Sits In Alberta Elevators, While Sask. Quotas Near Doubled

In many Alberta points, grain is sitting in congested elevators, while quotas in Saskatchewan are almost double that of Alberta. The Canadian Wheat Board has in the past few weeks been trying to bring Saskatchewan quotas more in line with Alberta, but there is still a marked discrepancy.

During the past few weeks there has been very restricted wheat shipments from Alberta in spite of heavy sales to China that must be delivered through the Pacific ports. At points where elevators are congested and there is still grain to be delivered, it is hard for either farmers or elevator agents to understand why there should be this delay, experts say.

The explanation for the situation is that eastern shipments have been poor all winter. The natural outlet for Manitoba and most of Saskatchewan, according to freight costs, is Fort William, except for the comparatively small quantities that can be shipped through Churchill. While navigation was closed from these ports all winter grain, supplied mainly from Alberta, continued to move out of Vancouver. The result was that quotas in Alberta steadily rose above the other provinces.

Demand out of the Lakehead, since navigation opened, has not been great and when the large orders from China were concluded, it was evident to the Wheat Board that much of the grain from Saskatchewan would have to be sent West in spite of an unfavorable freight differential. As a result, shipments are now being taken from much farther East than is normally the case and a concerted effort is being made to bring Saskatchewan quotas more nearly in line with Alberta. The situation has improved in the last two or three weeks but there is still a marked discrepancy between quotas in Alberta and those in Manitoba and Saskatchewan as the following table illustrates:

By now your garden is probably well up, and due to our favorable weather conditions, growing rapidly. At this time, we have a tendency to forget our gardens, except to look for radishes, but to insure a good yield later on we should care for our garden all summer.

The following reminders will promote a large and early harvest of vegetables and fruits.

Cultivation—Begin hoe cultivation as soon as young seedlings appear in order to conserve moisture and to destroy weeds which use up moisture and plant food. Cultivate once a week to a depth of cultivation to avoid injuring the roots. Thin vegetables when seedlings are well up on a cool day and when soil is moist.

Weeds—Hoeing is the best method of weed control for gardens. 2,4-D may be used on lawns but cannot be used on or near broad-leafed garden plants.

Insects—Modern insecticides can be effective in controlling insects. These products are poisons and must be handled with care and kept out of the reach of children. Insects that fed below ground such as cutworms, wireworms and root maggots can be controlled with Aldrin, dieldrin, chloradance or heptachlor. Apply the insecticide to the soil surface near the plants and work into the top few inches of soil.

Insects that chew plants above ground can in most cases be controlled with DDT (do not confuse with 2,4-D) or rotenone. Rotenone (derris) is safer than DDT to use on edible parts of the plant. It does not protect plants for as long a period and several applications may be needed. Currant and gooseberry maggots, pear slugs, and leaf miners can be controlled with DDT if used according to directions by the manufacturer on the container.

Insects that suck plant juices such as aphids are best controlled with malathion. Do not use malathion on edible parts of plants within two weeks of consumption or harvest.

Water—Water only when it is obvious that plants will benefit, then give a thorough soaking, and water again in seven days, if no rainfall intervenes.

Fertilizer—If present garden is not well supplied with organic matter or humus, commercial fertilizer will increase soil fertility and yields of produce. Scatter the fertilizer over the soil between the rows and near the plants, and work it well into the topsoil with a rake. Fertilizer should not be allowed to come into direct contact with roots or tops, since it may cause burning of young plants.

The large attendance showed the interest, not only by the parents of the 4-H members but also by their friends and neighbors.

Former Vilna Woman Guides Big Game Hunters Through B.C. Wilds

A former Vilna woman has been guiding big game American hunters for 15 years in B.C. near her home at Lost Valley Ranch, 70 Mile House. She is Miss Anna Chabara who lived in the Vilna district for 18 years before going to B.C. to work.

Recently she shot an Osborne Caribou and Fannin sheep in the Atlin district. The caribou scored 427 2/8 points, according to the Boone and Crockett measurements, and is placed No. 4 in the world record. The sheep has a 36 inch curl.

Miss Chabara tells of hunting on the Besa river off the Alaska highway in 1958. She shot a 38 inch Stone Sheep.

"I like to hunt and hope to get all five of the North American sheep she says," I am planning a trip into the Yukon for Dall sheep in 1962.

"I have been guiding American hunters for moose, deer and black bear for 15 years and also working on a cattle ranch," Miss Chabara adds. She uses a Remington .270 rifle with a Lyman American four-power scope.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

HOW TO GET THINGS DONE FOR GOD

Several of my friends across America have asked me, "Brother Roberts, how do you get things done for God?"

I answer, "Do what you can, with what you have, where you are." You need not have a special talent or any unusual ability to be a dynamic Christian.

I am reminded of the story of "Ma Lucy's Letters." Ma Lucy was a woman who had always wanted to do something for God, but a large family kept her too busy. She had longed to be a writer and compose powerful articles that would lead people to God. But there were never enough hours in the day for her to leave the chores for a while to write the burning testimony she felt in her heart.

But when she heard about a discouraged serviceman, she did take time to write a hurried letter to him. When her two boys went to college, she never failed to keep a fresh supply of encouragement and inspiration in their mailboxes each week. The people in the old-folks homes and in the city and county hospitals were thrilled by the simple Word of God and the encouragement they found in Ma Lucy's letters.

Her husband passed away just after the last of her boys graduated from college and left home. Suddenly she found herself with nothing to do—at last she had time to write.

But now the words wouldn't come. She couldn't put her inspiration on paper. Yet she still had a little packet of letters for the postman each morning. Her last months were spent, not writing the dreams of a lifetime, but encouraging a couple 500 miles away who had been having difficulty, comforting the family who had lost a father, and writing to the discouraged young pastor who called her "Mom." When she finally laid her pen down for the last time, the dreamed-of works had not been written.

But from all over the world, telegrams, letters, cards and flowers flooded the little chapel where her body lay. The story they told testified to a much greater work than most of us will ever accomplish.

A successful evangelist wrote, "I was ready to take my life, but I decided to read my mail first. There was a letter that said God was willing and able to meet my needs." Another was from a new mother who said, "We christened Cindy last Sunday. She would never have been born if it hadn't been for those weekly letters that brought my husband and me back together."

Suddenly, everyone realized that Ma Lucy's letters were really a ministry in themselves.

Although you may not realize it, little things are often important in getting things done for God. Simply do what you can, with what you have, where you are. You will be amazed at the results.

The Big Squeeze For Fishermen

By Henry J. Thompson

I am advised there are some 200 fishermen engaged in fishing the lakes in the Lac la Biche area on a commercial basis. Some are part time operation who draw part of their livelihood from other sources. Half of the above number are actually bonifide commercial fishermen.

The lateer are men who have a heavy investment in boats, nets, trucks and other equipment necessary to the business. Their investments to operate run from $5000 to $10,000. Nets are perishable, partly from use in setting, drying and being immersed in water. They rot or are broken and the depreciation is heavy. They have to be replaced frequently.

Under the laws as they are interpreted today, a five and a half inch mesh for whitefish is the legal size. Anything short of the exact measurement is liable for seizure and court action under section 25 of the fisheries Act. A fine and possible jail sentence is the usual result. The fisherman has no defence although he bought these nets in good faith and they were tagged by the company selling as a five and a half inch mesh.

A recent investigation by a member of the Fishermen's Executive for the Lac la Biche area, in the city of Edmonton, found, out of a stock of estimated 200 nets, none could qualify for the five and a half inch mesh. A tour of other supply houses gave him the same, or nearly the same result.

In view of these facts, which can be easily verified by any official of the Weights and Measures Depart of the Provincial Government, why should these companies be allowed to sell a product that is illegal when purchased and used in the lakes of Alberta?

In close questioning of a number of men in the fishermen's organization, many of them admit that a large percentage of these nets bought as five and a half inch mesh are or would be declared illegal by the local fishery if they were used.

Nets sold under Alberta regulations are legal while in the hands of the trade but become strictly illegal after they are used by bonifide fishermen. Surely there should be some solution for a situation that is forcing fishermen to go out of business. Nets should be stamped while in stock as Government Approved.

Running, pushing, diving from balconies or ledges, or swimming under docks and boats are often causes of drownings. Make water fun safe without horseplay.

IT IS NOT LIKELY Jack's Drive-In will be asked to fill bottles for little lambs, but if they are it will go with the regular service. Here we see a rarity in the animal world, these quadruplets present a problem for their mother who has facilities for feeding only two at a time. She is given an assist by bottle feeding on the British Columbia Tillotson's Farm where they were born.

Shower Compliments Miss J. Fornari

Complimenting Miss Josephine Fornari, bride-elect, a number of friends entertained at a miscellaneous shower held on the spacious lawns at the home of Mrs. L. Badry June 1. Michetti, Mrs. B. Coli, F. Farnari and D. Roland, all of Hylo, sang "Marina" and "O Sol Mio" in Italian. Mrs. Marion Bouvier also entertained with a song. Mrs. D. Bailey guessed the closest number of articles in Josephine's purse.

Assisting in unwrapping and displaying the gifts were Louise Badry, Marilyn Joncas, Donna Hamar, Loye McCullough, Mae Stefanyk, Elaine Lobay, Marjorie Loyinski, Cecile Meardi, Carol Stewart, Phyllis Kozak, Carolyn Biollo, Kathleen Duban and Lola Wolstenholme.

Hostesses for the afternoon included Mesdames Irene Badry, Jean Williams, Marion Bouvier, Erna McMillan, Olga Hamilton, J. Cunningham, Vi McCullough, Ruth Fedora, Mary Mackriss, Odele Marchildon, Antoinette Bonifacio and Pauline Linnell.

Miss Farnari will become the bride of Mr. Leopold Langevin on June 5.

Shower Honors Aileen Makie

The bride-elect was presented with many beautiful gifts.

Miss Makie's wedding will be an event of June 24.

Learning To Swim Not Enough Ability To Protect Necessary

Another swimming season has nearly arrived and approximately 70 perecent of the public will once again be at the various water resorts in this district. Water safety knowledge is of utmost importance if one wishes to enioy living. Learning to swim is the only defence against protective swimming.

Every swimmer, regardless of ability should be familiar with all hazards of water activities. To ignore these dangers is to court diseaster deliberately. It is very common for swimmers to have an exaggerated opinion of their endurance.

In 1959 there were approximately 45 drownings in Alberta, not to mention the many near fatalities. Many of these drownings could have been avoided if the victims had learned water safety rules.

A person who does not know how to swim can still be of great assistance in time of disaster by knowing water safety rules.

Many people do not realize that disregarding water safety rules can produce the same circumstanes as disregarding safe driving rules. An excellent example is alcohol. Everyone knows alcohol and driving don't mix; this also applies to water safety.

Supervize all poor swimmers and non-swimmers closely as they play in the water.

Wait at least two hours before entering the water after eating a large meal. Stomach cramps can develop if this rule is not observed.

Swim parallel to the shore line in chest-deep water at all times. Always swim with a capable companion.

Stay out of canvas and row boats if you do not know how to swim.

Learn to thread water.

Condition the body to water by splashing the ankles, wrists, back of neck and over the heart. If the body is overheated, the blood vessels will contract quickly and may cause fainting or cramps.

Investigate conditions when entering strange water for the first time. Enter the water feet first. Dive only when you know what is under water.

Preserve your strength. If you become tired, tread water. If you feel that you are in dire straights call for help.

Call for help when required.

Avoid weeds. If caught in a weed bed, swim slowly on the surface using the breast stroke and call for help.

Use the jelly fish float to relieve leg cramps or to remove clothing in the water.

Swim diagonally and with a current.

Swim with an undertow. It is usually found in oceans or large lakes. The undertow does weaken in 10 to 15 yards, and you can then swim to the surface.

Swim under water when trapped under rafts or boats. Do the same when oil or gas is on fire on the surface.

Don't push or duck your companions. Do not yell for help unless you really need it.

Remove clothing if you are forced into a long swim unexpectedly. You will thus preserve your strength.

Novices should not use tubes, logs or other objects for support.

If you must climb onto a log do so at the butt end to avoid rolling.

Don't swim after dark.

Wear a life jacket when water skiing.

Insist that all passengers in a boat wear life jackets.

Avoid the use of small craft in rough water. If caught out in the open, lie down in the bottom and drift.

Remove your shoes if in a canoe or boat. In this way, you do not scratch the craft.

TRAFFIC VICTIM was Lillian Elkow, 17, Musidora, killed when the car she was driving went out of control and rolled over in a ditch two miles east of Musidora on Highway 45. Miss Elkow is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Elkow of Musidora, her sister Noreen, and her brother Brian of Drumheller. An active member of the Students' Union she was attending the Two Hills High school.

Young Girl Killed In Highway Mishap

HAIRY HILL — A young girl was killed recently when the 1956 convertible in which she was riding smashed into a ditch on a municipal road four miles north of Hairy Hill.

Miss Marion Bone, 18, of 12110-59 St., Edmonton, died and seven other young persons were hospitalized.

Taken to hospital at Two Hills were Rosalind Bone, 15; Olga Yakimchuk, 17; Elizabeth Yakimchuk, 13; Frances Yakimchuk, 11; Robert Yakimchuk, 14 and Paul Mosiuk, 21, all of Hairy Hill, and Ernest Mulek, 21, of Edmonton.

Remain with an upset boat. Hold onto the craft until help reaches you.

Do not stand up in a boat or other small craft. If you must change place, croutch low and move slowly.

When paddling a canoe, stay on your knees with your buttocks against the bottom.

Don't attempt to swim after a drifting boat. Just remain calm and tread water till help arrives.

Lift a person over the back end of a boat. In a canoe left a person over the middle.

Boats towing skiers should carry two persons, one for driving the craft and the other to watch the skier.

Don't go on ice unless it is at least two inches thick.

If you can't swim, you can always send a rope or pole or even reach out to someone in trouble.

Wear clothing that can be removed quickly in case of emergencies.

Don't wear waders or hip boots in a boat.

Don't overload a boat.

Don't drink alcohol when out boating.

Remember, always watch children when near water. A moment of inattention can be the cause of a fatality.

On farms, abandoned wells and excavations should be filled or fenced off so that children will not fall in.

Learn and observe water safety rules. Your life may depend on it. Don't drown.

BETTER RESULTS WITH GLADS

Glads are well named, for they are flowers which gladden our hearts and gardens.

Glads are popular for many reasons. They are easy to grow and will grow anywhere. They are desirable, not only in the garden, but also as cut flowers for indoor use. Glads are not fussy about the soil in which they are planted, but they must have sunshine and lots of it.

Plant the bulbs at least four inches deep, as shown in the accompanying Gardengraph. Plant them deeper if the soil is very light and more shallow in heavy soil. Space them about four inches apart, as shown. Allow 18 to 24 inches between the rows for cultivation.

When the young spikes are about six to eight inches high, feed them by sprinkling sheep manure along the rows. Carefully hoe it into the soil. If sheep manure is not available, use a complete fertilizer at the rate of three pounds to 100 feet of row.

Gardeners frequently wonder why their glads have crooked stems. This is usually caused by not enough moisture in the soil during hot weather.

From the bud to bloom stages of glads it is important to keep the soil somewhat on the moist side. But do not top sprinkle the plants during hot weather. Instead, remove the nozzle from the hose and let the water soak the ground in which the glads are growing.

SIDEWALK BID OF $8,953 GETS VILLAGE OKAY

THORHILD — Bid totalling $8953.90 submitted by the Mamczasz Bridge Construction of Calgary, to construct almost 3,000 lineal feet of sidewalk in Thorhild, was accepted by the village council at the last Monday night's meeting. The accepted bid is subject to final approval of the department of highways.

Two other bids were by Poole Construction Ltd. of Edmonton, for $11,026.70 and Arthur A. Voice Construction Ltd. of Edmonton, for $11,094.40.

Base for the sidewalks is being prepared by the village through the winter-works program and is near completion and construction of walks should begin in about ten days following the final approval by the Department of Highways.

WMS And WA Plan Union For 1962

The plans which began in 1956, "to unite all the women of the United Church of Canada for the total mission of the church and to provide a medium through which they may express their loyalty and devotion to Jesus Christ," will come into effect in 1962.

The United Church Women is a completely new organization to include the Woman's Association, and the Women's Missionary Society members, and women otherwise not associated. The United Church Women, under the Board of Women, will be directly related to the General Council and within the Congregation it will be a more meaningful way for women to share in all the church's work. January, 1962, is the inauguration of The United Church Women.

1961 will be a big year. A year to tell the story, to explain, to take the steps necessary to make 1962 a success. Already the provincial committee has met: Mrs. Roddick, Viking; Mrs. Barr, Vermilion; Mrs. Laird, Clandonald, and Mrs. McLean, Lloydminster.

Representing the W. Presbytery: Mrs. Meyers of Lloydminster; Mrs. J. A. Hamilton and Mrs. C. Alderson of Wainright representing the WMS Presbyterial: Rev. C. Millar, chairman of the Presbytery, and Rev. J. Shortt, secretary, and Rev. Jackson Strapp, M & M convener, represented St. Paul United Presbytery.

The inauguration of The United Church Women will be marked by three steps:

1. The Congregational UCW inauguration to be held prior to Jan. 14.

2. The Presbyterial UCW inauguration to be held prior to Jan. 28.

3. The Conference inauguration.

Across Canada, Sunday, Jan. 4, 1962, has been named "Inauguration Sunday of The United Church Women!"

The provisional committee is ready to help the local congregations in preparing for 1962. All information is in the hands of the minister or with the supervising minister as the case may be. A questionnaire is to be mailed to each pastoral charge to check what steps have been taken.

1962 can and will be a great year. It will mean a larger participation, greater opportunities and a closer fellowship and participate by all the women of the church.

"Alberta -- The West At Its Best" Slogan Wins Tourist Contest

"Alberta — the west at its Best", has been judged the winning entry in the Alberta Tourist Association slogan contest which closed April 30.

Selected from more than 1,000 entries the phrase has won for W-O and Mrs. W. Waring, of Lancaster Park near Edmonton, a weekend holiday at any Alberta resort.

The mother of two school age daughters, Mrs. Waring, whose husband is Station Warrant Officer at the Namao R.C.A.F. Base, submitted the winning motto. They have decided to spend the vacation at Jasper National Park during the latter part of June. The Alberta Tourist Association as sponsors, will pick up the tab for the couple's accommodation and meals during their weekend stay at the mountain resort.

The slogan contest resulted from a change of name for the tourist promotion organization at the Calgary convention last January. At that time what was then known as the Canadian Rockies Tourist Association became the Alberta Tourist Association.

DAILY DOUBLETALK

The mother was deeply concerned about her daughter's new boy friend. "Remember, dear," she said, "get to know him before you become serious. Be sure he's considerate, for example."

"Oh, I already know he's considerate," the young girl replied. "Just the other day he told me that he put his shirt on a horse that was scratched."
